January 4th, 1900, we will begin the annual sale of UNDERMISLINS.

Over $60,000 Worth

new, fresh, crisp, dainty Muslin Underwear (the product of the art brains of the underwear world).

Months have been devoted to the gathering of this big collection. Huge orders have been placed long in advance when factories were dull, when makers eliminated profits in order to give continuous employment to their operators—these are a few of the reasons why January prices are lowest. When this underwear is selected we have the samples here from twenty of the leading underwear makers of America. With eye-glass and with tape line we scrutinize each and every style, discarding here and there until we have the cream of the collection, then we replace our orders. Only by anticipating the advancing prices are we able to offer you the values that you will find in this sale. Now is the time to buy, for every piece of this underwear will be advanced in price after the sale.

An Eight-Page Circular Has Been Prepared for Mail Orders and will be sent to you free of charge upon application. This circular will help you in selecting your garments and should be a guide to every woman who is in need of Muslin Underwear.

MIDNIGHT SERVICES.

Many Worshipers Attend Solemn High Mass at Opening of New Year.

Solemn high midnight mass opened the New Year and the Holy Year of the Roman Catholic church at the Church of the Assumption in this city last night.

The affection shown by the temperature for the zero mark and the lateness of the hour had no effect on the attendance at the service. By the time the big bell announced the half hour before the beginning of the mass practically all the seating space in the church was occupied, and before the celebrant and the assisting priests made their appearance before the high altar scores of people were standing in the aisles and in the rear of the church. It was the first midnight mass to be celebrated in Topeka at the opening of a new year, and hundreds of Protestants were there as well as hundreds of those of the Catholic faith.

Very Rev. Dean Hayden acted as celebrant of the mass, Rev. Father Harrison, deacon, and Rev. Father Daly of St. Mary's, sub-deacon. Solemn high mass is probably the most impressive ceremony of the Roman Catholic church, and the hour and the occasion it marked seemed to make that of last night more impressive still. For over an hour the chanting of the priests and the music of the mass resounded through the church, while the hundreds of worshippers changed their posture as the customs of the service demanded.

The high altar in the center of the church was made of waxed and colored electric lights and flickering candle flames. In unison with the altar arch, "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" shone out in letters of brilliant light. The arrangement having been allowed to remain since the Christmas services, the side altars were also aglow with lights, and in the space to the right a representation of the crib at Bethlehem, which like the inscription was prepared for the Christmas masses, was to be seen. Flowers and palms held place between the lights on each of the three altars.

A short sermon was preached by Rev. Father Harrison, assistant pastor of the church. He spoke of the fact that the keeping of New Year's resolutions had come to be a matter of fact, and exhorted his hearers to make it a matter of fact instead.

At the close of the mass there was Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. This concluded the midnight service, which will not be repeated until midnight of the last day of the present year. After that, unless some extraordinary circumstance takes place, midnight mass will not be celebrated New Year's until the next Holy Year, 50 years hence.

PIMPLES AND BOILS.

Are Caused by a Scrofulous Condition of the Blood.

While not alarming in themselves these eruptions of the skin are very annoying to persons of a sensitive nature, and show decidedly by their telltale appearance an evil condition of the blood.

Scrofula in any of its forms is as old as humanity. It has costed the blood of humanity for ages, making its appearance in swollen glands, boils, pimples, eruptions of the skin and scrofulous sores.

These diseases are constitutional and should be met by constitutional remedies of known merit and effectiveness.

The January term of the supreme court will begin tomorrow. A new and up-to-date remedy, which is certainly the safest if not the best remedy for the cure of these blood disorders.

Unlike sarsaparilla and liquid blood purifiers no secret is made of the ingredients in Hydrate of Sulphur Tablets; they are composed of sulphur, bi-carbonate of potash and other harmless but effective essentials and above all are very pleasing to the taste.

John McWilliams of 715 East 22 street, Kansas City, writes:

I am glad to recommend to my friends your Bi-Sulpho Tablets. Have been troubled with a serious blood and skin disorder for months which has been entirely cured by the use of your tablets.

These tablets are put up in a very compact and ready-to-take form and are sold by druggists at 50 cents per box. Sent postpaid by the Bi-Sulpho Co., Marshall, Mich.

BIG CATTLE CASE.

Clark County Ranchman Defendant In a Suit.

A suit has been filed in the federal court by the National Bank of Commerce, against J. W. Jones, a cattle man of Clark county, Kansas, on a complaint filed in the district court of Clark county, where it was first brought.

The suit is for the recovery of $10,000 damages, and also asks for the appointment of a receiver for between 500 and 600 head of cattle which are now in Clark county ranch, and which are security for the amount sued for.

It is alleged that Jones gave his note to a Kansas City commission company, immediately sold the note to the bank. Now the bank is suing Jones for the amount of the note, and it wants a receiver appointed to take charge of the cattle.

The defense in the suit in the federal court to take the suit back to the Clark county district court.

TEN HORSES BURNED.

Racing Stable of D. W. Kent Is Destroyed.

The sheep barn at the fair grounds, used by D. W. Kent as a training stable, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning about two o'clock and 10 horses and several buggies and sulkeys were burned.

The origin of the fire is not known. The barn was enveloped in flames when the alarm was turned in at 2:15 and when the firemen reached there the structure was past saving and had been water to use. Among the horses burned were Miss Emily and P. D. Q. The building was owned by the county and was insured.

This is the second time the fair grounds have been burned. The first time was in 1898 when the grandstand was burned.

At five o'clock Saturday afternoon the department received a call from the National hotel. The chemical engine, No. 1, was sent to the hotel.

Between the first and second floors was started by a defective fuse. It was put out with but little loss.

A Departure.

The Women's Educational and Industrial union of Boston has inaugurated a new feature, that of a "Housekeeper's School," which is conducted on a really scientific basis. This course is designed to meet the needs of college women and others who wish to fit themselves to manage a household on a scientific basis.

It is also claimed that this school holds the belief that house work is a trade and that the women upon whom the house of the house falls, whether she be employer or employee, should have special training for her work; to be consistent with this belief the school is only open for young women who wish to study housework as a trade.

As it defines itself, "the school of housekeeping stands for a recognition of the fact that housekeeping is a profession demanding scientific training. The course offered to young women who are studying it from the housekeeper's standpoint consists of the application of known principles and facts, scientific and economic, to the maintenance of a well ordered, healthy home. It includes a study of the management of the household and expenditure of the income according to business methods."

WOLFSOHN MYSTERY.

Aaron Wolfsohn Identified as Man on Whom Insurance Was Written.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 1.—The Wolfsohn mystery has been partially cleared up by the arrival from Chicago of Aaron Wolfsohn, who has been identified by S. A. D. Jones, the local agent of the New York Life Insurance company, as the man he insured for $10,000, notwithstanding Jones' previous positive declaration that the man who committed suicide in a lodging house in this city several weeks ago was Wolfsohn, whose heirs were entitled to the amount of the insurance policy which was paid over to the public administrator of this county. The identity of the suicide and the subject of his representation, as Wolfsohn will now be investigated.
